I'm about to get off my exit and I see a RI broken down on the side of the highway. I immediately thought of someone who I miss literally every fucking day Aaron Dice Hambusa and all the times where he has helped sooo many people in all sorts of situations including this one. A guy in his mid 40s on a RI, ( yes a guy in his mid 40s on a RI ) I guess his battery literally melted from his Toce pipes. (His diagnoses I have no clue what happened, all I knew was this thing wouldn't start ) So I said okay lets load this thing up and get outta here. He looked at me like I had 10 heads and he says, but I'm all the way

So guys tomorrow is Thursday. We are having a meet tomorrow at Southbay in Dorchester. Meet up at 8:30 KSU at 9:30 (yeah right) possible ride either in Boston or towards Plymouth. This is to keep Aaron's memories alive. This meet should never die out. We expect a huge turn out tomorrow. We will always keep this alive.

Because people are pieces of shit. North Shore South Shore whatever, bikes are missing and it sucks. I know it's not easy or possible for everyone but I just want to put out there that there are solutions if you have even a 4x6 foot space for bike storage if you don't have a garage. Make a small shed if you don't have much space and lock that shit up. I've even heard about people renting out small storage areas for their bike, inconvenient but your bike is safe just my two cents. Good luck out there..
